Meeting Minutes

Organization: Real Property, Probate, and Trust Society

Date/time of event: 09/27/2023 from 9 AM -5 PM

Amount requested: $426.20

Purpose of funds: Executive board members will host a table in the law school main building atrium to promote our student organization and let students know about future events with guest speakers, possibly pumpkin painting again, and what the Florida Bar section student membership offers for networking and connecting with attorneys organically in this area of law. To drive interest we will be offering gift bags and a raffle using the theme "reptile" to go off of the pun of how to pronounce our organizations name "RPPTL." This will create a fun, lighthearted appeal to students with cute gifts and the possibility for prizes with the raffle. We will have 48 gift bags with pencils, sticky notes, note pads, candy for free to those who are first come first serve. Throughout the day we will allow students to participate in the raffle by submitting 2 tickets for the possibility of winning one or two prizes of the 15 prizes. Any student is allowed to participate in the raffle, but each student will be limited to 2 tickets. Our executive board will have shifts of when we are at the table throughout the day from the morning to the afternoon. I have the quote from the Amazon SpearMart FSU account which does not include sales tax. I'm assuming this is the correct way to purchase this, but I have my own Amazon account and I can purchase it with that and seek reimbursement, but I'm not sure if this is proper protocol. I'm putting in the request of what the larger number is with my personal Amazon account that includes the sales tax.

Disclaimer: Everything is free, students will not be charged, and this event is designed to promote the organization and spread awareness of the events they will have throughout the rest of the semester.
