Questions:

- What are the funds for?
 - This event is held every year by the Student National Medical Association This event is a ceremony celebrating to acknowledge underrepresented pre-medical students by rewarding four lucky undergraduate students with a monetary scholarship. It is a banquet that is to honor the students for their achievements, as well as provide them insight to medical school and how to achieve their dreams of becoming physicians. The SNMA Aspiring Physician’s Scholarship will be awarded to outstanding students who demonstrate scholastic achievement, a strong history of service, and a desire to continue a life of service through the field of medicine. Those in attendance will be graduate students and faculty from the College of Medicine and Biomedical sciences department.
 - Emails and flyers will be sent out to advertise the event.
 - Note: Advised RSO to ensure visitors/speakers are comfortable with food being served and RSO is in charge of distributing the food with masks per FSU COVID guidelines.

Questions:

- What are the funds for?
 - The Obstetrics and Gynecology Interest Group gauged interest for the 2022 ACOG Clinical & Scientific Meeting. This opportunity will provide substantial networking and educational platforms; especially for the M3 and M4 classes. Students will get an opportunity to get a closer look at the advancements of Obstetrics and Gynecology. They can give back to the university by sharing the skills they learn at this conference. These students will also serve as role models for the cohorts to follow to participate and gain a wealth of knowledge from attending medical conferences.
