Roundtable Reports and Discussion

- Sarah: Welcome to our last meeting! My one and only announcement is that I've created a transition document for each of your positions. They are located in the "Transitions Documents" folder in the shared Cabinet folder. I will go over the outline now, but please feel free to change it to fit your position. The goal is to give the next Cabinet an idea of what our year looked like, provide them with important contacts and ideas, and offer advice. This does not need to be super extensive. Please have them done by inauguration so I can send the folder to the new administration.

- Hannah: I got a text from a student about extending hours for advising. I will pass it along to the next position. I am still going to the library meetings and Honors Policy meetings, and they have been super interesting. OGA work is closing up too, particularly with their textbook initiatives.
- TJ: The mural has been receiving pushback and issues with scheduling. It is in the best interest of the project to continue working on it after I term out. I want to complete it in the Fall, which will still be in the bicentennial year. It would be irresponsible to rush to complete it this semester. Rodney will still be here, so we will continue collaborating. I have all the phone numbers, contacts, and initial structures set. I'll be here over the summer, so I'll continue working on it then.
- Kolby: I was trying to organize a final clean up with the Florida Break Free from Plastics group and BSU, but they fell through. We are looking to reschedule before inauguration. That was the main thing I've been working on. I'm still going to attend a Transportation Advisory meeting in April, even though it's after inauguration. There's a separate meeting about the new Star Metro routes that I will also attend.
- Malena: I had a meeting with Eleanor from the libraries. The first 10 hammocks dropped on Friday, we're still looking for the other 10. I talked to Eleanor about transferring $5,000 from our budget to buy test prep books. It was approved, and the transfer is happening. I got an email back about a training for Healthy Noles on tobacco. I'm working with a Senator on expanding the hammock rental program to other resources like chairs. The library is a little backed up due to other initiatives, so it's been put on pause. She's also working on a calculator program, and Senate has been pushing back because they need to purchase other things. She wanted to see if more people from exec could go to support the legislation.

Closing Announcements

- Sarah: Thank you for an incredible year! It has been such a joyful and inspiring experience working with you. I hope to see you all at inauguration on Wednesday, April 3rd. Please fill out your transition document before then so I can pass them along to the new administration.
- TJ: Just to note- I love how relaxed our Cabinet has been this year. Thank you!
