Forwarding of Candidates

David Rodriguez:

Opening:

College of Engineering Student, would like to further the college and better involve the off-campus community by making an impact within Student Senate.

Questions:

Acevado: Anything on your resume?

No

M: What are the biggest problems that you wish to tackle in the coming years?

I've started reaching out to students who are willing to talk to freshmen and sophomore students who will eventually lead the engineering college and will better the college later on down the road.

Correa: Can you further describe what you will be willing to do to better Engineering major who haven't found a niche on campus yet?

I believe talking to classrooms of freshmen and sophomores and making them aware of

Myles: How would you make engineering clubs more accessible to the main campus?

By trying to simplify the process of booking rooms

Acevado: How would you make the Engineering College of FAMU and FSU more diverse?

By trying to incentivize the process of bringing the colleges together

Correa: How did you hear about Senate?

At an engineering meeting, one person brought up the process of Senate and how it works, and I figured I would enjoy it

Myles: Do you think you'll be able to balance your current commitments with Senate?

Yes, organizing the biweekly meetings along with other commitments has always been easy for me, and putting Senate on the agenda will not be much more difficult.

Closing:

Thank y'all so much for the opportunity, I hope I can work with y'all in the future to better the college of Engineering.

Round Table:

Reiter: The candidate reached out to me, and we had a very fruitful conversation about the college and how we can better the college of Engineering.

Voting:

In Favor: Sidelnik, Reiter, DiSalvo

Opposed: Maiyo, Myles, Acevado, Bousbar

Abstained: Correa

Candidate not forwarded to Senate

Terry Bolton:

Opening:

Born and raised in Tallahassee Florida, long term vision of helping people at FSU and in this community and distributing knowledge to those who can't get it. Decision making and managerial skills are the main qualities that candidates bring to the table.

Questions:

Acevado: Is there anything that wasn't in your resume that you'd like to highlight?

Being born and raised in Tallahassee, I have developed a strong sense of community and local business and that has greatly affected my life thus far.

Maiyo: Did you serve?

Yes

We are all about diversity and inclusion, will your upbringing in the Christian faith affect you being in this diverse community?

Acevado: As mentioned in your application, how do you want to make an impact on our financial success here in senate?

Would like to be a part of the budgeting committee, and help the student senate to financially grow in the coming sessions.

Acevado: Have you gone to any events with the College of Arts and Sciences?

No, but before coming to FSU, I was able to go to Intervarsity meetings and get a basis of likeminded individuals

Closing:

Thank you so much for the opportunity, thank you.

Round Table:

Reiter: Understands the job, and knows the position and is willing to

Acevado: He has a passion to attend student events and is willing to put in the effort

Correa: Transfer student that has served which could greatly improve our overall diversity in the Student Senate
