Senate Resolution

Resolution #: 2

Primary Sponsor: Folwell

Co-Sponsor(s): St. Hilaire

Date: November 15, 2022

Whereas: On November 15, 2022, the world reached a population of eight billion people.

Whereas: It has been just over eleven years since the world reached a population of seven billion people (October 31, 2011), and a bit over twenty-three years since the world reached a population of six billion people (October 12, 1999).

Whereas: These milestones may be arbitrary in nature, but they give all of humanity a day to sit back, look at what we've accomplished, and celebrate each other and the planet.

Whereas: It can become incredibly disheartening to look at the news, with the tragedy that plagues and separates us from each other, and it is thus incredibly important to have these days of commemoration to celebrate with one another, and with all of humanity, of the struggles that we have overcome and the battles that we have won.

Whereas: The Secretary-General of the United Nations, António Guterres, has stated that "the milestone is an occasion to celebrate diversity and advancements while considering humanity's shared responsibility for the planet."

Whereas: It is important for the Student Senate to encourage these good-faith celebrations, and to engage in the important discussions that arise on days like the Day of Eight Billion – an immovable day that may be looked back on forever.

Whereas: As time moves on, these billion-person milestones will be further spaced apart, as humanity's growth continues to slow, so it is even more important to acknowledge these days while the world still has them.

Be it resolved by the Seventy-fifth Student Senate at Florida State University that: The Seventy-fifth Student Senate celebrates the Day of Eight Billion as a celebration of life, humanity, and its accomplishments.

Be it further resolved that: The Seventy-fifth Student Senate asks that this resolution be posted in its entirety on Senate social media accounts, and asks the University to post an acknowledgement of the Day of Eight Billion on its social media accounts.

Be it lastly resolved that: A copy of this resolution be sent to:

Dr. Amy Hecht, Vice President of Student Affairs

Nimna Gabadage, Student Body President

Kenley Adams, Student Body Vice President

Senate Resolution

Resolution #: 3

Co-Sponsor(s): Anandjiwala, Brown, Casiple, Crusey, Hockett, Maglin, Pruiim, Walerio

Date: November 15, 2022

Whereas: Student Body Statute 413.3 states that “The FSU Student Senate Award for Excellence is to be granted for distinguished service to the Florida State University or to the community, or for outstanding performance in representing this university.”

Whereas: The National High Magnetic Field Laboratory (“MagLab”) has been a proud institution on the Florida State University campus since it was established in October of 1994 in Innovation Park, in collaboration with the University of Florida and the Los Alamos National Laboratory.

Whereas: This behemoth of a research facility is world-class in nature, being one of only twelve of its kind in the world, and the only one in the United States.

Whereas: The MagLab contributes to Florida State University’s predominance as a research institution, as it performs research in nearly every STEM subject area, including biology, chemistry, engineering, and physics.

Whereas: There are several world records boasted by the MagLab, including highest field for a continuous field magnet (45.5 Tesla for a test magnet and 45 Tesla for a user magnet), highest field for a split magnet (25 Tesla), highest trapped magnetic field (17.6 Tesla), and fourteen other world records, allowing them to proudly claim the title of possessing the “largest and most powerful magnet in the world.”

Whereas: The majestic nature of the MagLab does not stop at its research supremacy, but extends into the field of education, where its Center for Integrating Research and Learning provides education for students and teachers, children and parents, and scientists and non-scientists alike.

Whereas: These educational programs have proven to be remarkably successful, with thousands of K-12 students participating, with thousands more members of the public attending the various events that the MagLab puts on, demonstrating the wide-reaching impact that the facility has to the world, making a genuine impact beyond that of mere scientific innovation.

Whereas: The MagLab and its staff have won numerous awards, winning more constantly, that demonstrate its supremacy in the fields that it helps research, the most recent of which was receiving a 2022 R&D 100 Award, which was granted for the completion of the 32 Tesla Superconducting Magnet on MagLab’s campus, the most powerful all-conducting magnet in the world.

Whereas: As shown above, the MagLab is one of the gems of Florida State University and its campus, with a wide array of disciplines visiting their facilities from around the globe, and having won countless awards, it is only right to give them the on-campus recognition that is deserved, and to hopefully increase the awareness of the lab to the general student body.

Be it resolved by the Seventy-fifth Student Senate at Florida State University that: The National High Magnetic Field Laboratory is awarded the FSU Student Senate Award for Excellence.

Be it further resolved that: The Seventy-fifth Student Senate commends the MagLab for its outstanding work in representing the University, performing invaluable contributions in the name of science, and for creating a lasting international impact that must be celebrated.

Be it lastly resolved that: A copy of this resolution be sent to:
